Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

The Easter season always reminds me of my two most favorite poems. For my reflection this month, I simply want to commend them to you. Use them to reflect on God's creation. Take some time to slow down. Give thanks for the gentle pace of spring as we move towards summer and its warm breezes, longer evenings, and opportunities to leisurely gather outside. Be still and know that you are God's beloved works of art alongside the flowers that bloom and the birds that sing. It's surely been a long winter! Let resurrection reinstate our knowledge that the world, you and me, we're forever alive in Christ Jesus! Amen!

Your Sister-Servant,
Pr. Stacey

I thank You God for most this amazing...

I thank You God for most this amazing
day: for the leaping greenly spirits of trees
and a blue true dream of sky; and for everything which is natural which is infinite which is yes

(I who have died am alive again today,
and this is the sun's birthday; this is the birth day of life and of love and wings: and of the gay great happening illimitably earth)

how should tasting touching hearing seeing breathing any—lifted from the no
of all nothing—human merely being doubt unimaginable You?

(now the ears of my ears awake and now the eyes of my eyes are opened)

The Summer Day

Who made the world?
Who made the swan, and the black bear?
Who made the grasshopper?
This grasshopper, I mean—
the one who has flung herself out of the grass,
the one who is eating sugar out of my hand,
who is moving her jaws back and forth instead of
up and down—
who is gazing around with her enormous and complicated eyes.
Now she lifts her pale forearms and thoroughly
washes her face.
Now she snaps her wings open, and floats away.
I don't know exactly what a prayer is.
I do know how to pay attention, how to fall down
into the grass, how to kneel down in the grass,
how to be idle and blessed, how to stroll through
the fields,
which is what I have been doing all day.
Tell me, what else should I have done?
Doesn't everything die at last, and too soon?
Tell me, what is it you plan to do with your one wild and precious life?

—Mary Oliver
